

LET'S CIAO!, Inc, Personal Chef Services

Chef Roberto Izzo was born and raised in the French part of Switzerland. His father immigrated to Switzerland in the late 1950s from Italy and his mother from Slovenia (previously a state of the former Yugoslavia) in the early 1960s.

Roberto grew up in a multilingual and multicultural environment which exposed him to learn and cope with different languages and habits at home and in the country in which he lived.

Before starting a career in the gastronomy business, he graduated in finance and management and held several international positions with Swiss and American companies in Switzerland. He is also a very well-traveled person who visited many European countries, some Asian countries, Northern and Southern Africa and the U.S.A.

Chef Roberto is very passionate about wine and is in a continuous process of expanding his knowledge and likes to share it with other wine enthusiasts.

Roberto started Let's Ciao, Inc. to provide his clients with a unique experience of Mediterranean cuisine and other European specialties. His service is not only about meals, but about customer service with 110% attention.

Chef Roberto is married to Jennifer, a native Phoenician, who lived for five years in Switzerland with him after finishing her studies at Thunderbird. They have a little girl named Senya.

The three of them moved back to Phoenix in July 2005 to take a new challenge.

Chef Roberto looks forward to meeting you and presenting his services.
